DO THE PIECES FIT TOGETHER?

In most of our churches, recent weeks have been filled with numerous committee meetings and conversations in order to complete some of the key components for the new church year, like nominating committee reports and budgets. While it's always nice to breathe a sigh of relief when one of these major tasks has been completed, we should regularly assess these thresholds with spiritual discernment. Consider the following questions:

What do we say we value?

I created a survey a few years ago to probe this question. You probably won't be surprised to find out that churches do a great job of saying what they're supposed to value. Christians know they should value taking the Gospel to the lost and provide ongoing discipleship for believers. But is there a breakdown between the saying and the doing?

What do we really value?

Have you ever noticed that a police officer never walks up to a stopped vehicle and asks, "Who are you?" They work to skip all the possible lies and theatrics and ask for legal proof of identity. As a church, your words can be cheap. However, there are some clear ways to prove what you really value. Show me your...

- Budget
- Nominating Committee Report (or however you enlist leaders and workers)
- Church Calendar
- Church Bulletin, Website, Texts, etc.

Now we will see what you value. Think about it:

- If you value it, it will get financial PRIORITY, not a tip.
- If you value it, you will recruit the necessary leaders and workers for it.
- If you value it, you will schedule it with regularity.
- If you value it, you will promote it with intentionality.

Are we willing to align our priorities with our biblical purpose?

What if the pieces don't fit together? I fear that many churches have aspirational values for Gospel priorities, and real values for selfish concerns. For example, an unhealthy church will miss numerous discipleship opportunities while never missing a business meeting. One might be important, but the other is eternally important. Disjointed ministry comes in many forms, including churches where few of the aforementioned pieces match! In other words, the values, budget, workers, and events are all going in different directions!!

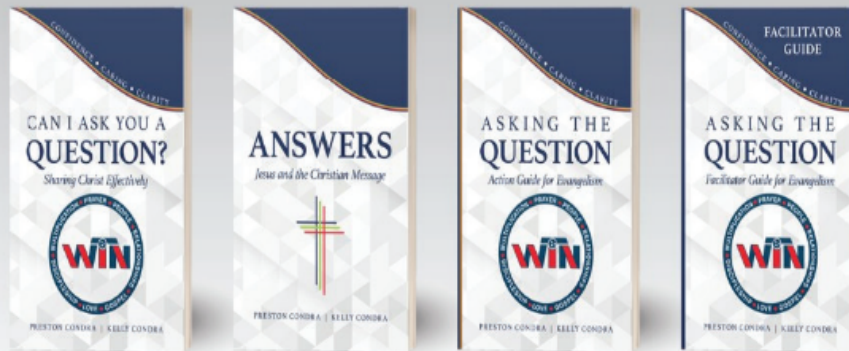

How do you fix it? Go back to your original purpose – making disciples. Ask the hard question, "Does this _____ have anything to do with the Great Commission?" If not, get rid of it. Free your people from the tyranny of dead traditions, and worldly expectations. For example, you may need to streamline those 20 committees into 6 teams THAT ALL DO SOMETHING THAT MATTERS FOR ETERNITY! You'll feel like a bird out of a cage, and God will be glorified by a church that seeks Him instead of repeating fruitless patterns. It's time we were about the Father's business!

Week of Prayer for State Missions / Golden Offering for TN Missions

Theme Verse: Jesus looked at them and said, "With man this is impossible, but with God all things are possible." – Matthew 19:26 NIV

Statewide 2023-2024 GOTM Goal: $2,700,000

The Golden Offering for Tennessee Missions is the annual state missions offering that provides invaluable financial support for ministries that help reach Tennesseans for Christ.

Tennessee Baptists contributing through the Golden Offering for Tennessee Missions provide support for Tennessee ministries; sustaining state ministries not funded through the Cooperative Program.

The offering is named after W.C. & Mildred Golden, who suggested the week of prayer for state missions and a state missions offering in 1902.

JOHNSON CITY BAPTIST CENTER UPDATE

Summer activities have come and gone for the Johnson City Baptist Center, and children have returned to school. We give thanks for the summer mission teams who gave their time and energy to share the love of Jesus with us over the summer months.

We are also grateful to the church teams who served by sharing the Good News at the Appalachian Fair in August. Thank you to JCBC friends, Cherry Grove, Boones Creek, Trinity, Ninth Street, Mountain View, Hulen, and New Salem Baptist Churches. Along with 1,920 bottles of water given away, the message of Jesus being the Living Water was passed on to those we encountered.

Through the Carnival Workers Ministry, led by Randy and Kay Scalf, we learned that they ministered to at least 45 Guatemalans, 20 Microasians, and some Americans. Pray that God will continue to nurture the seeds that were planted.

Please pray, also, for the weekly children's and adult Bible studies that start back soon at the Baptist Center. As we teach and live out our faith, may folks come to believe in Jesus, and grow in their walk with him.

"And many of the Samaritans of that city believed on him for the saying of the woman which testified, He told me all that I ever did." John 4:39.

NEW SALEM BAPTIST CHURCH CELEBRATES 178 YEARS

On Sunday, August 20th, New Salem Baptist Church in Limestone celebrated Homecoming and 178 years of continued Kingdom ministry. Dr. Rust delivered the morning message and his children provided special music. The culmination of the day's celebration was the dedication of their recently renovated education building.

In the fall of 2022, with a vision for discipleship and Christian education, the congregation voted to convert their existing fellowship hall into 4 classrooms. Dr. Craig Ponder, pastor of New Salem, has been quoted as saying, "What Baptist church does that!?"

Renovations began on January 9th of this year and classes first met on Sunday, June 18. Two Sunday school classes that were meeting in member's homes are now meeting on campus. When asked how the new space is being used, Pastor Ponder said, "During the Sunday school hour, the new space is occupied by a brand-new college and career class, our senior high class, plus our senior adult ladies and senior adult men. New Salem Children's Ministry has Children's Church here on Sunday mornings and our Kids In Action (KIA) meet here on Wednesday nights. There's also a lady's small group that meets here on Tuesday nights."

CLEANING UP AFTER THE STORM

Members of West Hills Baptist Church and the HBA Disaster Relief Team spent several hours cleaning up after the August 14 storm damage on the West Hills property. Twelve trees of various sizes came down with some damage to a fence. West Hills members Gene and Alan Hurdt joined Mike Durham, Steve & Terri Graham, Jim Rowland, David Crutchfield, and Troy & Jasper Rust in the clean up efforts. Thankfully, there was no damage to the Garden of Hope.
